Plans Made At Seminar For Faster Job Growth

SIU Research Offered
As One Way of Aiding
Industrial Development

An attitude of "let's roll up our sleeves and get to work" was stressed Friday at SIU-SW as several hundred labor, management and governmental leaders reviewed ways to encourage industrial and economic growth and higher employment.

While no area in the U. S. can be perfect for every industry, Madison and St. Clair counties have "unsurpassed potential" and so many advantages that this region can be assured of rapid development if its assets are used effectively. It was brought out at the all-day seminar sponsored by Illinois Metro-East.

Chester L. Baker, president of the host industrial development organization, presided and speakers included Gov. Otto Kerner, Cong. Melvin Price, Dr. Delyte Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, and Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business & Economic Development.

Gov. Otto Kerner stressed the importance of vocational and technical training in curbing unemployment, and he said Congress called for establishment of a state-operated institute for vocational training in southwestern Illinois.

President Morris pledged university support of community development activities and called for a second seminar to study ways of using SIU research facilities to accelerate industrial growth.

Also emphasizing the importance of education, recreation and cultural diversity, Dr. Morris voiced the hope and belief that there will be significant development all along the circumferential route being formed by construction of Interstate Route 270.

Other speakers were Peter Fanchi Jr., Nils Borge Line president, who cited advances in water transportation, economy and flexibility; Edward H. Hoffman, Illinois Manufacturers Council secretary-treasurer, who reviewed Quincy labor-management cooperation and industrial development and predicted that Robert Gibson, executive of Granite City who is state AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, eventually will head the state group; W. C. Van Dyke, Caterpillar Corp. executive, who reported on in-plant training; Dr. Grant Voth, associate in vocational education, who said occupational training has shifted from an optional luxury to a necessity in every community; and Dr.

$71,305 Venice Park Budget, $1385 Decrease

The Venice park board Thursday night adopted a $71,305 budget for the 1967-68 fiscal year, a decrease of $1,385 from last year's $72,690 appropriation.

The board budgeted $44,405 for general purposes, $6,885; $3,500 for the retirement fund, same as last year; and $23,400 for recreation, up $500.

Increases in the recreation program budget include a boost from $4500 to $7000 in hourly labor used for layout and caring for playgrounds. New items include purchase of bleachers, $1000, new equipment for recreation building, $2000, new playground equipment, $1850, and a summer program supplies, $1000.

The major decrease in the general park appropriation is omission of a 1966-67 capital improvement item of $7000 for a new park garage and office.

A detailed listing of the new budget appears in a legal notice elsewhere in this issue.

City Auto License Crackdown—June 5

Police Chief Donald Valzer announced today that the annual crackdown on Granite City auto owners without current licenses will begin June 5.

The new license became due May 1, the start of the city's new fiscal year, and auto owners usually are given a month's time to purchase the stickers at the city clerk's office.

"We'll start putting arrest tickets on cars without new stickers on June 5," the chief said. City Clerk Homer "Cal" Pendleton said 6070 of the $3 stickers have been sold to date. Last fiscal year's sale totaled 15,400.

Busy Weekend for Burglars —Loot Businesses, Homes

Two burglaries in which thieves escaped with cash loot totaling $475 were among a series of weekend crimes reported to authorities in the Quad-City area.

About $175 was stolen from a cash register in a burglary at Veterans' Luncheon & Rug Co., 1900 State street, it was reported at 10 p.m. Sunday. The burglars left three $1 bills and some change in the register. Entry was gained by breaking

County Board to Appoint Coroner; Davis Candidate

Thomas J. "Bud" Burke Jr.,
Alton funeral director, will be appointed by the Madison county board Wednesday to replace himself as coroner. Dr. W. W. Billings of Alton predicted Friday.

He charged that Leonard Davis, Granite City funeral director and former mayor, is being backed for the corner post primarily by members of the dominant county Democratic group, especially in the Quad-Cities and Collinsville, but this is denied by Davis.

Davis told the Press-Record today he has "thrown two little gnatlings" in the past two weeks for supervisors. He said he feels he is qualified for the position and that his chances "look good on the surface."

Davis said most of the votes probably will be divided between himself, Burke and a Carson County, also an Alton funeral director.

The supervisors' agenda for Wednesday lists Dr. Billings' resignation effective June 1, and filling of the vacancy.

A double election is a change in the name of Lake Drive in Sunny Acres, Nemolet township, Virginia drive, 1897 road maintenance bids; a final report on improvement of Maryville road; and committee reports.

Medical Division Adds $21,575 To Hospital Drive

A weekend report by the Medical Staff Division in St. Elizabeth Hospital's expansion-modernization fund campaign set the pledge total at $91,086, it was announced today at the campaign headquarters, 1520 Edison avenue.

Drive Chairman Delaney Davis and Lytle F. Guiley predicted today that the Medical Division, headed by Drs. W. W. Bowers and David Friedman, will top its $200,000 goal this week. The total added over the weekend was $21,575.

The division now is at the $191,000 mark.

The General Solicitation Division, headed by Dr. Felicia D. Koch, is scheduled for another report meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Venice-Madison American Legion Home.

The drive leaders are hopeful that the $1,000,000 minimum goal of the campaign will be reached at that time, and that volunteers are to continue on to hit the challenge goal of $1,500,000. With the challenge goal reached, 50 patient beds are to be added to the hospital.

Two Shops Burglarized
Burglars broke into Joseph's Hair Fashions and Frank Krusk's barber shop at 1401 Twenty-fifth street Thursday night. It was reported at 8:30 a.m. Friday.

Entry was gained by breaking a window in the rear room of the beauty parlor. A small amount of change was missing and a soda machine was broken with a stone.

18 injured In 20 Area Traffic Accidents

Seven injured in One
Mishap; Two Hurt in Truck-Auto Collision

Eighteen persons were injured—seven of them in one accident—a series of 20 weekend mishaps in the Quad-City area.

Seven persons were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:30 a.m. Saturday following a traffic accident at Route 203 and Bend road involving three cars and a truck.

One man was reported struck by another car when he alighted from his own auto to see if he could help state troopers at the accident scene.

State police said one car headed north on Route 203 turned left into Eagle Park road and was hit by a car headed south on Route 203. The other vehicles were reported to have become involved after the collision of the first two cars.

Occupants of one of the cars taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital included Ernest Miller, 25, Carl Harris, 29, and Harry Taul, 25, all of St. Louis. Miller and Taul were treated for lacerations and abrasions, were x-rayed and were admitted to the hospital.

Harris was treated for pains in the neck and cuts to the right ear and left leg and was released.

Another accident victim, Burn T. Hilliard, 38, St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for neck pains and multiple cuts and transferred to the John Cochran Veterans Hospital in St. Louis. He was reported to be the driver of one of the cars.

Others treated for injuries include Gerald Boyles, 34, of 1824 Sken street, Madison, driver of one of the autos, and William Scaggs, 24, of 2821 Maryville street, who was riding with Stagg.

Boyles suffered contusions to the left forehead. He was admitted to the hospital. Scaggs was x-rayed and released.

Everett Cookson, 27, of 2038 19th street, Madison, was reported struck by another car when he got out of his auto at the accident scene. He was x-rayed and released.

2 Madison Police Retire; Ex-Bridge Workers Hired

Two long-term Madison police officers have retired from service and are being replaced by two civilian desk clerks who formerly were employed on the Madison-owned and now defunct Chain of Rocks bridge.

Retirements will become effective June 1. Harold Lionberger, 58, of 1543 Third street, a member of the police department for 25 years, and John Hoxian, 59, of 804 Lee street, a police officer for more than 22 years.

Capt. Lionberger has been serving on night patrol duty, and Hoxian was desk clerk on the night shift.

The two vacancies have been filled by Roy Hill, 54, of 1638 Fifth street, Madison, and John Bridick, 58, of 4074 Madison avenue. Hill was a bridge clerk for 25 years, while Bridick is a former alderman, a former police magistrate and former bridge employee.

Mayor Stephen Maeras said both Hill and Bridick will work as civilian employees and not as members of the police department. A patrolman of the department formerly assigned to desk duty will be shifted to patrol duty in Lionberger's place.

The delay in hiring was caused by a dispute between the Madison school district, Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison and the city of Venice to determine if the Madison school district will "go along" with a project involving only actual housing.

Madison Schools Oppose New Apartments

Proposed North Venice
Project Called Burden
On District's Finances

The Madison school district, has filed a protest with the Madison County Housing Authority against the proposed location of new housing units sought by the city of Venice to take care of residents to be displaced from the Kerr Island area by the Great River road.

The objection is based primarily on the current plan to build the housing units on Kerr Island are allowed—on a tract adjoining the present Lee Wright Homes project. This would place the new housing in the Madison County district, as are other North Venice apartments.

Children of families moving into the housing units on Kerr Island would transfer from the Venice school district to Madison schools. Madison school officials contend that their schools already are seriously overcrowded and that they are "not financially able to provide educational facilities for the children."

The problem came to light at a regular meeting of the Venice city council Friday night when Mayor John E. Lee informed council members of a letter sent by the Madison school district to the housing authority, noting the district's protest to the Lee Wright Homes area location.

Will Reuse Request
Since the protest was made, Mayor Lee told the council, he has discussed the matter with housing authority officials, who recommended that the city of Venice revise its original housing request of 200 units to one that would accommodate "only the need" for housing displaced residents.

This will require a detailed survey of the Kerr Island area to determine the number of families that actually will be displaced by the state purchase of highway right-of-way needed for future construction of Federal Route 151 through the Venice area.

In addition, the survey will determine the number of children in the families forced to move, as well as the different grades among which the children are grouped.

Mayor Lee said he met with John Pier, superintendent of Venice schools, who told him that about 100 children now attend Venice schools from the part of Kerr Island that is affected by the highway project. Most of these children are expected to be moved to grades, from the first grade through high school.

Originally, the city of Venice planned construction of 100 housing units for elderly persons and 100 regular housing units in a program that would be handled by the Madison County Housing Authority. The tract adjoining Lee Wright Homes was chosen because the housing authority already owns the land, and any new site cost thereby would be eliminated.

Approximately 66 families are expected to be displaced by the advance of Route 151 through the Venice area. Right-of-way purchases already are underway, and grading of right-of-way in the area is expected early next year.

To Meet With Madison
A meeting then will be arranged between the Madison school district, Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison and the city of Venice to determine if the Madison school district will "go along" with a project involving only actual housing.

One-Way Expansion Still Pending

Starting date for Granite City's new one-way street system has not yet been determined, but motorists are being cautioned to be alert to the new no-parking zones being established in the downtown business district where meters at corners are being removed.

Police Chief Velzer said arrest tickets will be placed on vehicles found parked in the new no-parking zones that are clearly marked with bright yellow paint.

Work was started last week on painting the curbs and street stripes, and the meter removal was started on Friday.

Removal of over 70 parking meters from corners in the business district was ordered several weeks ago by the city council.

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

The removal was carried out in compliance with the state traffic code that prohibits parking 20 to 30 feet from intersections.

The delay in extending the one-way street system—authorized by the council in conflict with recommendations by the Citizens' Traffic Commission—is in getting posts on which to mount directional and control signs.

8 Quad-Cityans to be Drafted on Friday

This year, 19 Quad-Cityans have been inducted.

New Budget for Pontoon Village $13,143, Up $5522

Pontoon Beach village board of trustees gave preliminary approval Thursday evening to a tentative budget totaling $13,143, an increase of $5522 over last year.

Village President Thomas Staicoff said the expanded budget will not result in a tax levy for Pontoon Beach residents.

The 1967-68 budget ordinance, placed on first reading at Thursday's special meeting of the board, probably will be adopted at the trustees' regular session set for 7:30 p.m. this Thursday. Staicoff said the special session was called to afford residents at least two opportunities to express their opinions on the budget.

Police, Lighting Costs

The most noticeable increases in the operation of the village's volunteer police department, including a $4000 appropriation for a new police vehicle and a $400 clothing expense item for police volunteers. Previous expenses listed for the department, increased in this year's budget, include $280 increase for lighting and heating the building, and a $325 addition for department supplies, including a $100 ticket books.

Other budget items increased from the 1966-67 budget, are street lighting, up $400; rent for board meetings, up $150, and office supplies, up $100.

In other action at Thursday's special session, trustees approved the appointment of three additional policemen, increasing the volunteer force to full strength to seven policemen and a police chief. Those appointed were Edward Henke, George Grimm and Edward Cuvier.

13 Acres Annexed

Approval also was voted for an annexation petition involving 13 acres of vacant land, as an addition to Lakeview Estates subdivision. The annexed area is located north of the village and west of Highway 111. Staicoff said the new addition will be developed by Lloyd Mouser, developer of Lakeview Estates, who plans to construct one-family residences.

Pointing out the need for a new police car, Staicoff said the members of the police squad are experiencing continuous mechanical difficulties with the vehicle presently in use. Bids are to be opened June 22.

Presentation of the budget also included a report that showed a cash balance of $10,715 on May 1, start of the current fiscal year, with an estimated $8357 in total cash receipts anticipated from all sources through April 30, 1968.

Mrs. Sarah Langston, 80; Dies; Ill 3 Years

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Langston, 80, who resided with her daughter, Mrs. Mildred L. Smith, 2327 Colgate place, died following a three-year illness at 1:35 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She was admitted to the hospital one week ago.

A native of Kenya, Ill., Mrs. Langston had lived at 1517 Johnson road for 28 years prior to moving to the Colgate address eight months ago. She was preceded in death by a son, Fred Langston, in January, 1964, and a son-in-law, Harry H. Smith, in July 1965.

Mrs. Langston also is survived by a niece, Blanche McCall, of Denver, Colo.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Liquor Charges Filed

At 2 a.m. Saturday police arrested Edward Fancher, Route Three, Crocker, Mo., at Nidderhaus and Madison avenues for illegal transportation of liquor and charged Milton Peterson, 19, of 1310 Eighteenth street with illegal possession of liquor.

Plans Made

Howard Reepke, University of Illinois, who outlined this area's strong and weak points and out-looks for the future to assure economic growth.

Gov. Kerner told the gathering, "Illinois is now at a virtual plateau. Last year, Illinois had the highest per capita personal income among the 50 states. Our economy has reached new heights of production and service. We stand on the threshold of an age in which opportunities can be broadened as never before."

Prosperity Unemployment

"And yet we have a problem of what economists call 'prosperity unemployment,' the unemployment that results when certain individuals in the labor force cannot find the rising or changing demands of the labor market. Throughout the country there are hundreds of thousands of unutilized job openings, and millions of unemployed and underemployed."

"As a nation committed to the idea that every person should have full opportunity to become a working and viable member of our society, we cannot ignore the problem of structural unemployment."

"From the point of view of the country's economic well-being, we must find ways to make the structurally unemployed contributing members to the national economy instead of a continuing and self-perpetuating drain on our resources.

"Structural unemployment means that there are widely varying rates of unemployment among different segments of the work force. The unemployment rate for unskilled Negroes is about double the overall rate. The rate for all teenagers is three times the average, while Negro teenagers have a rate twice as high as that."

"Thus, when we have an average national unemployment rate of about 5%, the unemployment rate for teenagers is 15%. Thus, it is particularly important that we develop the means and techniques to make our young people employable now and in the future. This is the major employment problem," Gov. Kerner said.

"In Illinois, 21% of the 1940 population was under 15 years of age. By 1960 this had risen to 25%. In Madison and St. Clair counties, the comparable percentage was 23% in 1940 and 32% in 1960."

"Within 15 years, over 75,000 youngsters between the ages of 15 and 24 will be job hunters in Madison and St. Clair counties, as opposed to 59,000 in 1960; 16,000 more youths will be entering the job market in these two counties."

"What kinds of jobs will be available for these youngsters?"

"The technological revolution has swept the country has made vast changes in the nature of the demand for workers. In 1910, 31 of every 100 gainfully employed worked on the farms. By 1960, less than seven of every 100 workers was so employed. By 1970, even fewer will be needed."

"This drop in agricultural jobs meant a tremendous drop in the number of low-skill jobs available. This change was paralleled, although not as significant numerically, by a similar drop in the number of industrial laborers required. In 1920 there were almost five million industrial laborers; by 1960, just a trifle more than three million. Industrial laborers dropped from 11.6% in 1920 to 4.8% in 1960."

Skilled Workers Needed
"New jobs have developed at a faster rate than old jobs have disappeared, but the new jobs have strikingly different requirements. There has been a tremendous increase in the demand for professional, technical and skilled workers.

"Today, there is a continuing and even rising demand for workers in many of such occupations. And these jobs require more and more education."

"It is increasingly difficult for anyone without a full high school education to get anything but a dead-end job. And it is increasingly difficult for individuals without additional education, either vocational or college, to move upward on the occupational ladder, to be promoted."

In Illinois today, of 100 students who enter high schools as freshmen, only 20 continue their formal education and receive college degrees. Of the 80 remaining students, only 15 receive formal occupational training; 65 have had no vocational education."

Relating this to St. Clair and Madison counties we find that, of those students who do not go on to college, less than 4% receive vocational training. The remaining 96% are turned loose upon the job market, with an inadequate education and no occupational training, to fend for themselves in an uninterested labor market.

"It is this group with which we must concern ourselves. We must do so immediately, before those now in the schools and shortly to leave them on the brink of economic disaster," the governor concluded.

Hayes and Horn Nuptials At St. Elizabeth's Saturday

White gladiolus and yellow pom poms on the altar and white satin bows on the pews provided the setting Saturday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Ginger Marie Horn and Charles M. Hayes.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn, 2321 St. Bernard avenue, and Mrs. Dorothy Hayes, 2819 Marshall avenue.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at noon by the Rev. Lawrence Mattingly. Mrs. Francis Judd presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Raymond Voorhees, as he sang "Wedding Prayer," "Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza. It was styled with a square neck adorned with Alencon lace, an Empire bodice and a relaxed sheath skirt. Long sleeves came to points at the hands and Chantilly lace accented the detachable court train.

A long veil of sheer illusion was secured by a crown of pearls and stephanotis and white roses and variegated ivy were combined in the bride's bouquet centered with a corsage.

Mrs. Douglas Horn, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and Judith Spurrier, Kay Hayes, a sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and Karen Horn, the bride's younger sister, junior maid, were dressed alike in floor-length yellow crepe gowns with Venetian boat necklines and brief sleeves.

Watteau panels of lace and velvet ribbon, and lace and velvet headpieces completed their costumes. They carried crescent bouquets of white daisies. Robin Hayes, the bridegroom's brother, served as ring bearer, and Robin Blane, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The latter, dressed like the older attendants, carried a white basket of petals trimmed with yellow ribbon.

They were preceded by Michell and Mavis Vaughn, both in white silk crepe dresses with full skirts and long embroidered organza overskirts scalloped at the hem.

Tiny pearls trimmed the scallops and they wore yellow headbands. They carried white straw rice baskets.

Douglas Horn was best man, and William and Jeffrey Hayes, brothers of the bridegroom, Norman Past, John Love and Dale Spangza, were groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Horn wore a yellow sheath dress and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige crepe sheath with a full length lace coat and beige accessories.

The wedding breakfast was held at the Rose Bowl, and friends of the couple attended a reception in the evening at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant.

After a short wedding trip, the newlyweds will live in Granite City.

The former Miss Horn was graduated from the local high school and attended Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. At present she is employed in the office of Granite City Steel Co.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of the local schools, attended St. Louis School of Pharmacy and is presently serving in the U. S. Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., as a pharmacist specialist.

NEW STYLE UNIFORMS? Functional yet fashionable is the slogan of St. Elizabeth Hospital nurses who are trying out a culotte-style uniform. As in women's fashion, not all nurses favor the modish attire. Modeling the new uniforms are Mrs. Dolores Waelth, RN, director of education, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lipchik, RN, third floor staff nurse.

Nurses at Hospital Trying Uniform of Cullotte Design

An interesting problem is confronting the staff of St. Elizabeth Hospital's staff. An issue that most women frequently experience—what to wear?

Hospital authorities report this week that several staff members are trying out the new culotte-style uniforms in an effort to find a fashionable yet functional dress.

Recently, it was learned, several nurses and technicians have appeared in the one-piece white uniform which has the semblance of a full skirt, but in reality is fashioned in the culotte-pants style.

Those trying the modish attire report the culottes are comfortable to wear and to make it easier to perform many of the tasks demanded of nurses.

It may be some time before the question of the culotte or non-culotte uniform is finally resolved, according to John Drees, St. Elizabeth's public relations director.

The building also houses offices, classrooms and rehearsal rooms for the Fine Arts Division faculty and staff to be used for instruction in music, speech, theater and art and design. The campus data processing staff and equipment and the central telephone exchange equipment and personnel also are housed in the Communications Building.

It includes a theater seating 412 persons. Balcony space is in the form of eight loges, four on each side. The stage is arched in such a way that performers can walk into the seating areas where the stage parallels the side aisles. In a basement storage room is a hydraulic orchestra pit which rises into the theater above and can be used to enlarge the stage area. A proposed south wing on the building will provide a theater that will seat 1500.

Hightower, who will deliver his address in the theater of the Communications Building, is one of only five men in the long history of the Associated Press to carry the title of "special correspondent." Although most of his stories carry a Washington dateline, Hightower writes from Berlin, Moscow, Tokyo, Paris, Geneva, Vienna, Manila, London or any other world capital where high-level diplomatic action takes place.

He holds a Pulitzer Prize for international reporting, awarded in 1961, a year in which he made a clean sweep of major journalistic awards. In addition to the Pulitzer Prize he received the Raymond Clapper Award and the Sigma Delta Chi Distinguished Service Award for Washington correspondence.

So complete is his knowledge of international affairs, that he frequently is called upon to follow an important international development with a lengthy interpretive story explaining the effects of the move. Since world newsbreaks occur around the clock, more than once Hightower has been awakened to dictate his interpretive story over the bedside phone.

Pupils Should Be Told Of Drug Hazards—Panel

A five-day SIU-SW Institute on non-narcotic drug abuse ended Friday with a declaration by the conferees that schools should instruct against the "harmful use of drugs by children." They urged the curriculum from Kindergarten through the 12th grade include "content and learning experiences" opposing youthful drug abuse.

Ascribed to SIU's Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Development, the document also pledged a six-month period of "local inquiry and action." The authors indicated this effort will apply not only to their communities but to "all segments of our society," and they resolved to convene afterwards with additional resource people for implementing the institute's goals.

National Scouter Optimist Speaker

Ways of promoting the Boy Scout program in urban areas were described Thursday by Robert J. Brooks of New Brunswick, N. J., a national executive with the Boy Scouts of America.

Brooks, assistant national director of urban relationships, addressed Granite City Optimists at their luncheon in the YMCA. He was in the Quad-City area two days.

He commented that low income areas here are mainly in pockets, rather than being identifiable as "inner city," such as in principal cities of the U. S.

Brooks linked the challenge to high turnover in school populations. He said some areas are uprooted by urban renewal programs, or families move away looking for better jobs or living accommodations, making it harder to maintain scout units.

He pointed out that Boy Scouting essentially is a character building program, as opposed to producing material reward. He stressed that sponsorship of scouting groups in such neighborhoods may affect the future of society in general by providing wholesome activity and skill training.

A difficulty in establishing units in some areas is suspicion

Attorney for Barylak Given Time for Study

Associate Circuit Judge J. H. Streep Thursday continued "indefinitely" the court appearance of former State's Attorney Joseph R. Barylak regarding the estate of Emma Marie Kreuzer of Collinsville. He is to account for $3708.

Barylak was to appear Friday but Ed Meag, an East St. Louis attorney representing Barylak, sought time to familiarize himself with the case. He said he will meet this week with the lawyer for the executor of the estate. Streep indicated the hearing will be held in about two weeks.

Seek Labor Plan Action

The Tri-Cities Trades & Labor Council is among groups being asked to consider a labor-management plan proposed in March by the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corp., the RIRC has announced. The plan has been endorsed by 80 firms and five labor groups. Gene Graves, Illinois Business & Economic Development Department director, has the present image, is unjustified, and has commended such efforts to correct it.

Breaks Auto Window

A vandal broke a rear window glass in the parked 1964 station wagon of Charles Johnson, 2165a Benton street, at that address at 6:20 p.m. Saturday.

that scouting is a program for "rich people," he added the term "rich" is usually applied to anyone of a higher economic status, regardless of degree.

A lack of leaders in low income areas also was cited; those who customarily carry out the program, the fathers, many times are absent. Other parents hold two jobs to earn sufficient money for their families.

Thirdly, he commented, Boy Scouts learn the values of the program through use of printed materials; in impoverished areas there is less motivation to learn by this method, and teaching instead must be accomplished by demonstration.

Wilbert Tribes, Optimist president, presided and said plans are complete for the club's annual installation dinner party at 6:30 p.m. June 8 at the Army Depot Officers' Club. Twenty-four members attended.

Area PTA Council To Hear Talk on Adult Education

M. A. Wittevrongel, director of vocational and adult education in the Granite City school system, will describe courses available through the district's "Adult Education" department at the bi-monthly meeting of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs, 7:30 p.m. Thursday at McKinley school.

The program also will include installation of new council officers, presentation of an art scholarship to a local high school art student and convention highlights. A "drag session," when representatives of the council's 19-member units may review their accomplishments within the past school year, also will be featured.

Plans for the general meeting were completed Thursday during an executive board session held in the Coolidge junior high school library. Arthur Menendez, council president, presided.

He urged retiring presidents of all Granite City PTA units to invite the incoming unit president to attend Thursday's council meeting. Menendez also announced a "Spring School of Instruction" for PTA officers and chairman will be held June 8 at Webster junior high school in Collinsville. The workshop and meeting will be sponsored by District 28, ICPT, the officer said.

Mrs. Pat Polly of the Mitchell PTA unit will be installed as the new council president.

The Granite City Army Depot will sponsor the first project of the U. S. government's "New Career" program as another step in the depot's widespread participation in federal Equal Employment Opportunity projects. It was announced Thursday during an all-day seminar at the depot.

The seminar, sponsored by the Army Depot, was held to promote an understanding of and generate support for the Equal Employment Opportunity policies and development interest among citizens regarding potential Federal employment or the entrance into training which will prepare them for federal occupations, the group was told by Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer at the Army Depot.

Thirty-one persons representing minority groups, civil rights organizations, state employment services and other interested agencies attended the day-long program of discussions, addresses and an open forum in the Officers Club at the depot. The seminar opened at 9 a.m. and adjourned at 3 p.m.

Few Details Available
Col. Hoskin, who outlined the various projects in which the Army Depot now participates to train underprivileged and under-skilled youths, said the "New Career" program is now in an embryonic stage and few details of its operational plan are yet available. However, the colonel said, the program will be "in effect, a post graduate of the Neighborhood Youth Program."

It will provide two years of advanced training for about 55 Madison and St. Clair county youths who will be paid an hourly wage while they take their advanced training.

Col. Hoskin opened the seminar with an outline of equal employment opportunity programs at the depot. He pointed out that the Army Depot, for several years, has implemented the Federal policy of hiring and recognizing applicants and employees on the basis of education, training, tests, experience and quality of performance. He said, "Our supervisors and managers have consistently disregarded race, creed, color, national origin and sex as relevant factors for consideration in personal actions."

Elmer J. Churchill, area supervisor of the Illinois State Employment Service, spoke on the efforts of the ISES to place underprivileged youths, particularly those of minority groups in jobs. He explained that the ISES has no job openings of its own, but only the offerings received from industry and business, which usually specify qualifications of workers they seek.

Need More Guarantees
James E. Williams, deputy Equal Employment Opportunity officer at the depot, spoke on the redesigning of specific jobs so that people with less qualifications may be eligible for work. He told the group that the fundamental credo of the U. S. Constitution apply as well today as they did when it was drafted, but that in the matter of equal opportunity the constitution requires further "implementation toward achievement of equal opportunity for all."

Martin Held of the evaluation branch of the U. S. Civil Service Williams added that he believed much progress has been made of the St. Louis region said all groups are going to "have to reiterated the policies of the or- stance facing the real problems ganization which, she said, rep- we have just begun, because resented the NAACP program we are not equal." He said the for equal employment opportu- finding of jobs should be a new nity.

A gown of white linen and Venetian lace was worn by the bride. It was designed with an Empire bodice, an oval neckline and Kabuki sleeves, the natural waistline in the back accented with short accordion puffed sleeves and satin ribbons at the waists forming bows and streamers for the train.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white pinks, gladioli and lilies of the valley. The attendants, Miss Joyce Mason, maid of honor, Miss Diane Jones, a sister of the bride, Miss Sandy Hickman, and Mrs. John Veth, bridesmaids, wore floor-length gowns of chiffon with short accordion puffed sleeves and satin ribbons at the waists.

The honor attendant was in yellow and the bridesmaids wore shades of pink, aquamarine and Nile green. Flat satin bows in their hair were in contrasting colors and they carried round bouquets of yellow, pink, blue and green daisies to match their gowns.

Gina Johannmeier was flower girl and Charles Johannmeier served as ring bearer. The little flower girl wore a short dress of white organza over satin. Made on Empire lines, it featured short puffed sleeves and an Empire line of lace. She carried a basket of pink, blue, yellow and green daisies.

Michael Mitchell was best man, and Michael Jones, the bride's brother, Alan Nicol, Joseph Kosch, Robert Soehlin, bride and groom's brother-in-law, and Stuart Jones, another brother of the bride, served as groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother was dressed in a sheath dress of pale blue lace. Mrs. Kuenkler, the bridegroom's mother, wore mint green. Both had corsages of cymbidium orchids.

The wedding reception was held in the church hall directly after the ceremony. Mrs. Robert Soehlin presided over the guest book.

Both young people were graduated from the Granite City schools. The bride is employed in St. Louis. Mr. Kuenkler is an employee of Granite City Steel Co.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening at their home. Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding Saturday of Miss Ginger Horn and Charles Hayes were Mr. and Mrs. August Blanco of Perryville, bride and groom's father-in-law, and Mrs. W. J. Lee of Cumberland, Tenn., grandparents of the bride and groom, and Mrs. Claus Hotop, Mr. and Mrs. August Moldenhauer, Mrs. Fre Corse, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moldenhauer, and Mrs. Richard Mohlenhauer, all of Perryville, and Mr. and Mrs. James R. Shelton of Dearborn, Mich.

LIFE NOT INTENDED TO BE FREE OF TROUBLE

To the Editor: We often hear a person question why another person, a professing Christian, is trying his best to serve the Lord, is sorely tried with all kinds of bad luck, sickness and sometimes death in the family.

You can safely say the one who questions is not a Christian. If he were, he would understand. Nowhere in the Bible does God promise a life free of trouble for his followers.

But He does promise to be near at all times. He says, "Call upon Me in time of trouble and I will hear."

He also says, "All who live Godly in Christ Jesus shall be persecuted for my name's sake." Paul tells us to "count it all joy to be tried." If God didn't think we were worthy, He wouldn't bother to test us.

Take for instance the manufacturers of our automobiles. They put their new models through the most rigid tests to find the weak spots so they can strengthen and improve them. They are constantly testing and finding ways to make a better car.

Likewise, God allows his people to be tested and sometimes to put them through a refining fire to bring out the pure gold.

If we are truly trying to serve God, trusting in His mercy and grace, we are able to face any trial or test, knowing we shall come out a stronger man.

God's word promises us He will give peace to those who love Him.

Write your Congressman. But don't look in the Congressional Directory for his mailing address, at least unless you have plenty of patience.

That venerable book tells you where your Congressman went to high school, but so far as we can find, it won't tell you exactly how to write him.

Given time, admittedly, you can figure out a workable address. The directory gives room numbers, plus a simple formula for telling which office building a room is in. You can assume all the office buildings are in Washington, D.C.

In line with Postmaster O'Brien's efficiency drive, the zip codes seem to be 20515 for the House and 20510 for the Senate. But you won't find that in the Directory.

Or, since the Directory does give phone extensions, you can call. The general number, it says, is "224-3121 (Code 180)."

If you have a moment for research, you may figure out that the code is not an area one but an internal government one. If that's the case, you'll find out exactly how to write him.

In that case, you'll find out exactly how to write him. In fact, you might not be prone to such fine distinctions.

leaving decisions on later phases of the program, to be made at some future time.

It is significant that the new proposal would have been the first unit carried out under the larger plan. It rates first priority because it meets the greatest need. This makes sense, because the stormwater lines that will need to be installed elsewhere in future years must have somewhere to connect; this connection will be with the Unit One storm lines, which will provide access to the Mississippi River through pipes that bypass the costly sewage treatment process.

Any journey must begin with a first step. Granite Cityans can take a big step toward solving their vital sewer needs by voting "Yes" for better sewers June 10.

But dividends are only one of the factors to be considered. The more important factor is why the company is not paying dividends.

If it is growing very rapidly and earning good money, but putting a large share of its earnings into new plant equipment and inventory, then I might buy it even though it was not paying a dividend.

If it is not growing or not showing good earnings, or if it is earning well but just piling up losses, I'd hesitate to buy it.

Q—My wife and I are taking in an underprivileged child this summer. Will we be able to claim her as a dependent?

A—If you plan to have the child with you only a few months, no dependency claim may be taken. To qualify as a dependent, the child must be under your household, live with you the entire year and obtain more than one-half her support from you.

Q—We are thinking of renting our house this summer while we are away. If we do, will the money we get be taxable?

A—Your total income from this rental must be reported, but only the amount in excess of allowable expenses will be taxable. Heat, light, repairs and depreciation are some of the expenses that may be deducted.

Since you will be renting the house only part of the year, annual expenses such as taxes must be prorated.

Wires That Don't Pay Dividends

(Investment Education Institute)

Q. One member of our investment club reported on a corporation at a recent meeting. In recommending that we not buy the firm's stock, he gave us one of the reasons the fact that the firm (fairly new) had never paid a dividend. Do you think that is a valid reason?

A. It all depends. All things being equal, if I were presented with a chance to buy stock in a firm that has never paid a dividend and one that has been paying them, I would opt for the one that paid them.

But dividends are only one of the factors to be considered. The more important factor is why the company is not paying dividends.

Quad-Cityans to Perform In Masquers' 'Brigadoon'

Several Quad-Cityans are members of the Collinsville Masquers, a theatrical group which this week will present two performances of the well-known musical, "Brigadoon."

The production will be staged at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Webster Junior high school auditorium, located one block off Main street in Collinsville.

Directing the Lerner and Loewe musical is Jim Swank, a Mitchell school teacher, while Mrs. Mildred Hoelscher of Granite City is serving as choreographer.

Featured in the role of "Meg" will be Miss Rogers Davis, a member of the Venice school faculty, who also assists with casting.

HAVE YOU TRIED RED BARN'S NEW CHICKEN?

Swank said today that local cast members are hoping for a large number of Quad-Cityans among the audience.

Other Granite Cityans participating in "Brigadoon," include James Harsh who will be seen as "Angus MacGuffin," and Russell North portraying the character of "Stuart Dalrymple."

Miss Part Dineff, who has provided piano accompaniment for cast members on previous occasions, will be in the singing chorus. Miss Lynn Cunningham, Miss Barrie Massie, Miss Erie Ann Mills and Miss Jane Parmenter, all of Granite City, are to be featured in the Masquers' dancing ensemble.

The announcement came after protests on treatment of dogs and cats were voiced at the meeting by Mrs. Lorena Varner, 317 Fourth street. Several weeks ago, Mrs. Varner reported to police that King had beaten a cat to death with a club in the presence of her two children, and she told the council other incidents had occurred since.

Mrs. Ethel Bell, St. Louis, Humane Society representative, accompanied Mrs. Varner to the meeting and urged better treatment of stray animals.

Mayor Lee told the women and council members that "I will take the blame for this because I was my appointment. A mistake was made, but that is in the past. King will be relieved from the humane officer post when I make new appointments in June. We also are preparing to purchase tranquilizer guns and equipment that will facilitate the picking up of stray dogs and cats."

Has Other Duties

The mayor added that he intended to relieve King "not only because of this, but because as assistant street superintendent he has too many other duties and cannot properly attend to the duties of a humane officer along with all the other work he has to do."

Alderman Lloyd H. Patterson, chairman of the council's Light Committee, said Illinois Power Co. has agreed to make a complete new survey of street lighting facilities in the city with a view toward adding lights where needed. After the survey is complete, Patterson said, he will call a meeting of the committee and recommendations to the council will be drawn.

The council instructed Harry E. Hartman, city attorney, to institute civil proceedings against the Fox Bros. Co. in an attempt to halt a alleged emission of red smoke.

Smoke sometimes blankets the entire North Venice area, and there have been complaints of damage to paint on houses and autos.

A resolution appropriating $3000 for the purchase of a new fire truck was approved. There will be no council meeting on Tuesday, June 1, because of the city street work during vacation months.

Damaged Houses Standing

Hartman was instructed to notify the owners of four properties, damaged seriously by fire but not repaired or razed, to remedy the condition in 30 days or face condemnation proceedings. Alderman John Ervin listed houses at 502 Main street, 1211 Douglas street, 1109 Calhoun street and 1850 Calhoun street.

A building permit was approved for Marion Guest, 1017 Douglas street, to construct a one-room residential addition at a cost of $2000. A permit also was approved for B. K. Washington for construction of a foundation at 1111 College street on which to set a four-room house that will be moved from Granite City.

Mayor Lee said the city street department will follow its usual summer hiring program, under which it uses college and high school graduates planning to attend college next fall, for part-time street work during vacation months.

Accident on Broadway

A tractor-trailer truck driven by Gilbert A. Hunt, High Ridge, Mo., and the car of Thomas J. Sover, 1246 Ortle street, Venice, were involved in an accident at 7:10 p.m. Friday at Fourth and Broadway streets. The auto was damaged on the left side. There was no damage to the truck.

Muffler Charge

Robert Dawes, 17 Terrace lane, was charged at 6 p.m. Friday at Johnson road and Terrace lane with driving with an improper muffler.

Venice Mayor Lee To Replace City Humane Officer

Lee King, assistant superintendent of street and public works at Venice, will be relieved of the humane officer post when new city appointments are announced early in June. Mayor John E. Lee told the Venice city council Friday night.

The announcement came after protests on treatment of dogs and cats were voiced at the meeting by Mrs. Lorena Varner, 317 Fourth street. Several weeks ago, Mrs. Varner reported to police that King had beaten a cat to death with a club in the presence of her two children, and she told the council other incidents had occurred since.

Believes County Clean Air Bill Is Unnecessary

Adoption of air pollution control regulations by Madison county will duplicate control laws now administered by the Illinois State Pollution Control Board and result in unnecessary expense, William F. Hoelscher, general manager and secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities, said today.

Hoelscher said the association has not taken a definite stand as being opposed to the Madison county ordinance which has been drafted by State's Atty. Leon Scroggins, but said the association feels that it is not needed "as the state air control board already has covered the field."

Hoelscher said he has not yet been able "to find out who told
